THE COOKIES POLICY OF IT ANYWHERE

IT Anywhere uses cookies. Cookies are text files that enable us to keep track of the pages that you visit on our website and your activity on each page. We therefore record some parameters of importance to you, particularly your preferences en matière de soins. These cookies enable us to offer you a better experience on the IT Anywhere website.

What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files stored in a browser on the User's computer to record their activity. They send an anonymous identifier which will be stored on that computer and will facilitate browsing on the Internet, for example by enabling Users who are already connected to access areas, services or promotions that are intended for them without having to identify themselves on each visit. Cookies can also be used to analyse the visit rate, the number of visits and browser settings, to calculate the length of a session and/or to control the flows and access.

IT Anywhere strives at all time to put in place the appropriate mechanisms to obtain the User's permission to accept the cookies required. However, according to the legislation in force, it is important to note that if the browser's configuration is modified and that this disables the restrictions that prevent cookies from being accepted, the User will then be deemed to have given his consent, so that this consent is not necessary to accept cookies strictly reserved for a service provision expressly requested by the User himself (through prior subscribing). However, your Data will only be stored for the time that is necessary for the purposes for which these Data are processed and in accordance with legal requirements.
